

Purslow Show - First Cancellation in 66 Years

The Purslow Sports, Show and Gymkhana has been running successfully now for 65 years, raising thousands of pounds for charities. For the first time in its history, the Show was cancelled this year. The Chairman and Committee met and decided that the condition of the showground was dangerous, due to being waterlogged and as further rain was expected, they reluctantly agreed to cancel the show. It is particularly disappointing as the Show this year featured Savage Skills, whose cycle stunt display was eagerly anticipated. However, the good news is that they are keen to come in 2013. The running of the show depends on the many volunteers who work hard to provide a fun day out for the local community. Also, many people prepared exhibits for the Handicraft and Produce Show. We appreciate all the efforts put in and all share in their disappointment. One can only wonder how many Chocolate Mayonnaise Cakes were consumed for afternoon tea in the Clun Valley! We look forward to a better summer and a good show in 2013.

Gilbert's 90th Birthday Party

He marks his birthday by presenting The Crown Inn Domino Challenge Cup

Gilbert Jones from Clunton, who is a member of the Clunton Sharks Domino team, planned to celebrate his 90th birthday at the Crown Inn, Clunton, with his friends and neighbours. Unfortunately Gilbert was taken ill just before his party, but it went ahead without him. His three children, Malcolm, Kath and Gill hosted the party in his absence.

Gilbert had also planned to hold a Knockout Domino Tournament to mark the occasion. The competition went ahead, thanks to his friend Andy Coull who organised it for him on the day. After a thrilling competition, the cup was won by Roger Hughes from Newcastle.

Gilbert is now fit and well and is pictured presenting the cup to Roger at the Crown Inn, Clunton. "I am pleased that the party and dominoes competition went ahead without me and thanks must go to Della and Andy at the Crown Inn for helping me to arrange the party. I will have to have another party next year to make up for missing this one," he said mischievously!

Gilbert moved to the New House Farm, Kempton in 1931 and retired to Clunton with his wife Grace in 1989. "We enjoy being part of the village and I wanted to give something back to encourage more people to play competitive dominoes". The competition will be played annually on or around the 4th May at the Crown Inn, Clunton.

Clunbury Parish Past & Present

Further to my introductory note in the April issue of the Parish Post, herewith the fourth and final extract from Archdeacon Plymley's report on his visitation to Clunbury in 1793; it relates to employment and education.

The labourers have 1s.6d a day and most of them keep a pig and the farmers will let them have as much ground rent free to rear potatoes as they can find manure for. They do not brew any malt liquor. The poor children are put out apprentices at 8,9 or 10 years of age and bound for 7 years. There is a workhouse. Four old women teach school in different parts of this Parish. A piece of land value 5£, has its income divided among them.

In his A Country Education: A History of the Schools of Clunbury, Chris Train reviews the limited evidence and concludes that it was in the 1820s that the first school was built in the parish 'on the small field across the ford and opposite what is now Chapel House, on an area by the river called Village Green'. The present school was built in 1862.

It seems that in 1793 the only education was through what are referred to as 'dame schools' at which women provided elementary education, in some cases little more than day-care, in their own homes. Chris Train records a charitable gift made in 1699 of land in Obley, known as School Piece, for the benefit of the poor of the parish and a second such gift made in 1760. It is perhaps the income from such land that Archdeacon Plymley refers.

Anyone interested in reading Archdeacon Plymley's full report should go to Shropshire Archives. The Clunbury report is referenced SA6001/6860-5 but reports are available on many local parishes.

Clunton BBQ

A fine day greeted Chairman Jack Huffer's BBQ at the end of July at Clunton Village Hall. The event drew more than sixty people who stayed to enjoy the convivial atmosphere from 4pm until late into the evening. The attraction was, of course, the fine food cooked by Jack, and sweets to die for, provided by members of the Village Hall Committee; various drinks aided the digestion.

The BBQ raised in the region of £500 for village funds and thanks go to everyone who supported this event.

Severn Trent on Tap

I had reason to contact Severn Trent Water recently over serious loss of pressure. I discovered the BT telephone directory of little use, as the number did not appear in the expected place and was the wrong number! They now have a freephone number:

0800 783 4444

This number is on the back of their bills... which I didn't think of at the time, but went straight to the phone book, as you do!

Tickets to be bought in advance from Pauline Edie 60120, Heather Williams 650610 or Anne Shepherdson 660309. If people wish to ask a question, their ticket should be filled in with their name, location and question and handed in at the entrance.

Shropshire Historic Churches Trust: Ride and Stride

On Saturday 8 September from 10.00am all churches in our area will be open for this national event, when you are encouraged to take part by cycling or walking to as many churches as you can.

Refreshments will be available at the churches, and you should sign in as you arrive. Please seek sponsorship for your efforts. Proceeds are shared between the SHCT and your own church. Cyclists and walkers will be taking part from Clunton. Anyone interested may come and join us.

Sponsorship forms are available from Pat Harding: Tel 660169 or email patmharding@aol.com

Fire birds alight in Kempton

Local birdwatchers have been excited to find a pair of Firecrests breeding this year in Kempton – the first such record for Shropshire. No bigger than a Wren, the Firecrest is more strongly marked than its better-known relative, the Goldcrest, having a black stripe through the eye, over which there is a broad white band. Males have a fiery-red crest.

The first confirmed breeding record for the UK was 50 years ago, in Hampshire, and today there are probably 1,000 or more breeding pairs in the country, the majority in southern England. Climate change may be a factor in the northward expansion.

Lightfoot: "Feel the warmth"

This is the theme for Eco Homes this year, with events popping up near you over the winter.

Newtown, Saturday 6 October, a full day of talks on secondary glazing, renewables (especially solar hot water) and ways of funding these projects, plus open Eco Homes to visit.

Presteigne, Saturday 20 October, talks on log and pellet boilers.

"See the warmth" on our thermal imaging camera - book us to come and take some snaps of your home to see how your warmth is escaping.

To take part in these and other events, or to open your house and share what you know, contact Amanda Brick, Lightfoot Coordinator, Bishop's Castle, on 630683 or email mandy@lightfoot.org.uk

Clun Good Friends Scheme

Do you have a couple of hours once a fortnight to give to visiting someone, a neighbour in your community, who is isolated, down or lonely because of illness or bereavement. If so, we would love to talk to you and tell you more about the Clun Good Friends Scheme, a scheme set up by Clun Valley Good Neighbours.

Established just a year ago, with support of the Meadows Surgery in Clun and the Severn Hospice in Shrewsbury, the Good Friends Scheme is now providing a visiting service to a small number of people referred by their GP who are seen as in need of 'friendship'. We cover the Clun Valley from Aston to Newcastle and cater for those not only registered with the Meadows Surgery but also with other GPs covering the area. We need more volunteers, especially in the areas around Clunbury, as it would be good to put people in touch with someone local to them with local contacts and knowledge rather than someone from Clun.

We have regular meetings with staff from the Severn Hospice and have training sessions planned for 15 & 16 October. If you would like to get involved or would just like more information, please get in touch. Our co-ordinators, Joan Kerry 640401 and Rev. Ann Ogram 640830 would be very pleased to hear from you.

Joan Kerry
